M'NAMARAS ARE NOW IN STRIPES

Dynamiters Are Spirited From Los Angeles to San Quentin Prison.

ABE REUF AS A NEIGHBOR

Express Thanks to Sheriff for His Treatment of Them-Have Hatred for McManigal.

San Quentin, Cal., Dec. 11 .- The Mc Namara brothers yesterday entered San Quentin penitentiary-James B. for life and John J. for 15 years. James B. blew up the Los Angeles Times building on Oct. 1, 1910, with the loss of 21 lives, and John J. abetted in wrecking the Liewellyn iron works the following Christmas day.

The pleas of guilty entered by the brothers closed these two cases and opened a nation wide investigation. including inquiries by two federal grand juries, into a series of dynamitings reaching from coast to coast and perpetrated where labor differences

Every woman wants white, spotless linen and perfeetly clean clothing-with the least amount of time and labor.

These results are obtained by using one part pure borax to three parts pure soap. It's the Borax with the soap that does the work. When combined with soap in the proper proportions, borax removes all the dirt, whitens the garments, brightens colors, saves woolens from shrinking, removes germs, and leaves everything sweetsmelling and fresh.

For your convenience 20 Mule-Team Borax Soap Chips are made on the above formula. Hence the perfect cleanser.

HERE'S SAN QUENTIN PRISON, ON POINT OPPOSITE SAN FRANCISCO, WHERE MCNAMAR: BROTHERS WILL SOON BEGIN SERVING SENTENCES

PRISON AT SAN QUENTIN, CAL.

SAN QUENTIN penitentiary, where James B. McNamara will spend the rest of his life and John J. McNamara, his prother the part fifteen and John J. McNamara, his prother the part fifteen and John J. McNamara will spend the rest of his life and Joh Namara, his brother, the next fifteen years, provided they serve their sentences, is situated on San Quenpoint, just across the mouth of the Golden Gate from San Francisco.

The prison has a curious history. During the gold mining days in California, when a Vigilance committee deait out, summary punishment for all manner of crimes, it occurred to somebody that there ought to be a less violent way of chastising minor offenders than by dangling them from the limb of a tree. So a state senator, named McCauley, agreed, to house, feed and guard the prisoners if he could have the benefit of their labor.

For salekeeping he lodged them aboard an old hulk that had brought treasure seekers around the For salesceping he loaged them aboard an old milk that had brought dreasure seekers around the Horn and had been abandoned in San Francisco bay. It was moored in the Sacramento river, and afterward was moved down into the bay. Then, in a gale of wind, it became unmanageable, and with all the prisoners aboard, drifted across the bay and grounded on San Quentin Point. McCauley couldn't get the old wreck off again, so he took his convicts ashore, and finding an abundance of brick clay in the vicinity, he set his charges to work building a barracks. In 1856 the state bought McCauley's enterprise.

ROY STRECKFUS IS NOW A CAPTAIN

Is the Second of Captain John Streckfus' Sons to Secure His Papers.

Has No Difficulty Whatever, Thanks to Long Careful Training Under His Father.

Papers received from government examiners Saturday by Roy Streckfus, second son of Captain and Mrs. John Streckfus, 725 Twenty-third street, allow him to place before his name, the big word "Captain." And so it is no fore a man can be a captain, he went to Dubuque, went through the examination and the results were shown in his commission, just received. Since BOARD OF TRADE TRANSACTIONS he was old enough to learn of the ways of river navigation, Captain Roy has spent his summers on the Mississippi, working under the direction of his father.

HAS GOOD TRAINING.

In the winter he has gone to school.

Last year he completed a business course, and along with his nautical training, has something else to back has been running in recent years, working along with his father. Within a little more than a week.

Captain John Streckfus, and his sons, Captains Joe and Roy, and John Jr. will leave for Paducah, Ky., where the big excursion steamer Sidney, of the Streckfus Steamboat line is being overhauled. They will take that boat from Paducah to New Orleans where it will take the place of the ill-fated steamer J. S. in the excursion traffic.
